GOERING
CENTER | for Family & Private Business

What if you could connect with a community of family and private business owners who were committed to working on their business, not just in it? Goering Center Associate Members take an active interest in helping owners tackle the day-to-day challenges of operating their business while planning for the long-term. If you are in business to help business owners succeed, the Goering Center is where you can gain exposure and share your expertise in a variety of public and private forums. Our non-solicitation environment puts our members at ease, trusting our Associate Members are there to educate, not sell.

"I've been an Associate Member of the Goering Center since 2012. Why? As a closely held company, the Leadership Development Institute has been invaluable as five of us have completed the program, and the Roundtable in which I participate is a key part of our organization's success. This is an amazing community of privately held companies that allow for connections in meaningful ways that sometimes go beyond business."

Larry Van Kirk, Valuation Research Corporation
